Fanzonely: "talents should get a chance to prove themselves"

Autosport is teamwork, passion and professionalism. Fanzonely herewith created its company culture and two unique education initiatives: the Speed Academy and Young Talent Program. The goal of these programs is to give Automotive talents a chance to gain useful practical experience and develop their skills. The team members work closely together, so next to career opportunities also friendships for life are no exception.

Speed Academy

In 2008 Fanzonely started the Fanzonely Speed Academy. Several coaches show selected students of HTS Autotechniek Arnhem (Engineering University) and ROC Aventus (Vocational Education) all the ins and outs of the sport. In the impressive environment that autosport is, they are immediately asked to show their creativity, responsibility, exceptional focus and stamina. With their practical experience and personal development, these talents clearly can find their way on the labor market more easily than their fellow students.

"Above all autosport is a team sport, in which responsibility, creativity and a 100% effort of everyone is needed to reach the team's goals."

Young Talent Program

The Fanzonely Young Talent Program was founded by Fanzonely and partner HTS Autotechniek Arnhem. This program is all about the development of the BRL Light racing car and famous for its proven success. Every year new graduates develop (parts of) the racing car. Proven improvements will be implemented into the entire BRL Light Series in the next season. Next to Engineering students also a young and talented racing driver is given a chance to prove his or her talent every year. With the professional help of the racing team the Fanzonely Young Talent makes his debut in the international autosport.

With a motivated, professional team and a unique concept Fanzonely proves to be competitive at the top of the international autosport.
